Century Golfers Participate in National Tournament

Century College golf team members Dan Ross of Andover and Kyle Lawrence of Mounds View participated in the National Junior and Community College Men's Golf National Championship tournament in Chautauqua, New York, June 5 to 9. Century had two of the seven Midwest regional golfers in the tournament.

Both Ross and Lawrence played four rounds of golf and finished in about the middle of the group of 100 golfers in the NJCAA tournament. They qualified for the national tournament last fall by participating in a regional competition.

Last year, Century qualified three women golfers for the National Women's Junior and Community College Tournament. Century started its intercollegiate golf program four years ago and continues to build the program under coach Mike McShane.
