The juried exhibition draws the finest artists from the Upper Midwest region. This year, 29 artists and 50 artworks were carefully selected from the 165 artists and 238 artworks that were entered.

Jurors Ann Ledy, President of the College of Visual Arts; Daniel Gray, Art Instructor at Mahtomedi High School for 34 years, and Erica Spitzer Rasmussen, Managing Director of the Katherine E. Nash Gallery and Associate Professor at Metropolitan State University, are artists in their own right and have exhibited nationally.

Northern Lights is one of the area's most prestigious fine art exhibitions and will be viewed by over 15,000 individuals during its four-week run. The community is invited to see this wonderful selection of fine art ranging from painting, sculpture, drawings photography and fiber from both Minnesota and Wisconsin artists.
